Social and Personal

One of the musical successes of the season was the pupils' rectial, given by Miss Zelle Minor's plane class, on Saturday evening. The seating capacity of Furgusson Brothers' music rooms was taxed to the utmost, and many persons stood during the entire programme, but seemingly enjoyed it, nevertheless. From the wee misses of the primary class to the advanced pupils there appear the same purity of touch, with a quiet confidence and style that wen compliments from all present.

Mrs. Thomas and Mr. Walke rendered several delightful vocal selections, and were forced to respond to encores.

The "Tannhauser Overture" was splendidly given as plane quartette and formed a most fitting close to a thoroughly enjoyable programme.

Beside the many patrons of the class and former pupils, many music lovers were present; among them Mrs. C. W. P. Brock, Mrs. Howitt, Mr. John Tyler, Mrs. Kichard Maury and Miss Maury, Misses Harvie, Chaffin, O'Ferrall, Beverlege, Cullingsworth, Welsh, Hill, Mrs. Conway Gordon, Miss Evolyn Bridges and many others.

eridge, Cullingsworth, Welsh, Hill, Mrs. Conway (4) rdon, Miss Evelyn Bridges and many others.

The programme was given in these columns Thursday, Those taking part were Mrs. (thomas, Mrs. Walter C. Mercer, Miss Zelle Minor, Miss Lilly Hill, Miss Helen Winston, Miss Lelly Hill, Miss Helen Winston, Miss Betty, Mr. Ecléen Walke, Mr. John Felld, Misses Martna Chaffin, Louise Yarrington, Janie Simpson, Lucillo Massey, Margaret de Jarnette and Mary Hawks.

Excursion to Jamestown.

The annual excursion of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities to Jamestown will fall on May May 12th, Mrs. Taylor Ellyson is chairman of the day, and full details in regard to hours of leaving Richmond, returning and stops made on the way will be published in a few days.

These annual excursions have become the synonym of all that in charming and delightful. The river between Richmond and Jamestown Island is studded with points of interest at every turn, and with the Antiquarian excursionists, there is always some one to explain and roint out whatever is worth noting and renembering.

The excavations that have been made at Jamestown since last May, and the fact that the island, being the veritable "cradic of the American republic," possesses a unique distinction nowhere else to be found, clothes every foot of it with the greatest interest for Virginians, and all who like them are inspired with patriotism and the love of an ancestral past in American history, Many improvements have also marked the passing of the year since last May.

Virginia Day.

My Old Kentucky Home.

Stephen Collins Foster was born in Pilisburg, Penn., in 1828, and died at the age of 38. He was the son of a presperous farmer, was well educated, but had a Bohersian tendency that das his ruin. He wrote about 125 songs, a third of which were negro melodies, the first appiration for which he is said to have gained in visiting negro campmentings. He sold to the Christy ministrels his first song, "O Susanna," whon he was but 16.

He made a great deal of money, $15.000 of it from "The Old Folks at Home."
From the age of 20 he made a permanent resert of a little grocery barroom in the Bowery, and there, often in the shabblest attire, he wrote many of his most beautiful songs, of which, sung by Jenny Lind, Christine Nillson and Pattl, were to move thousand to tears. The end came one dismal, stormy night in January, 1804, when he fell down stairs in a cheap Bowery hotel, where he lodged, receiving injuries from which he died in the hospital a few hours later. He had married one of his schoolmates. Jenny Dow, whose name he introduced into 10 of his songs. Owing to his habits she was obliged to make her own living as a telegrapher, but she accompanied his remains hack to their early hone, where they were received as the relice of a hero, great crowds gathering to pay homage to his memory. All dyes were batted intears as the coffin was lowered into the grave, while sweet voices say his beautiful verses, "Come Where My Love Lies Breaming." In Pittsburg not long ago, a monument was crosted to his memory, "Old Breaming." Foster also wrote "Uncle Ned." "Old Black Joe," "Nelly Was a Lady," "Old Dec Tray," "Wille, We Hare Missed You." He wrote both the words and music of all his pieces. He would first jot down the notes, then make up suitable words for them. His work commands the additation of scientific nuisicians. He was also a man of culture, familiar with French and German literature, and a fair artist in water colors.

COMMITTEE IS CALLED

Democratic Representatives to Meet in This City April 29th for Work.

FIX DATE OF CONVENTION

The State Committee Will Also Select Place-May Declare for Judge Parker.

Hon, J. Taylor Ellyson, chairman of he Democratic State Central Committee, resterday issued the call for the meeting of that committee at Murphy's Hotel, in this city, on Friday, April 20th, at noon. The meeting is called to receive and act upon the report of the subcommittee in the Norfolk city primary contest, in which the Trehy faction seeks to have declared null and vold the selection of a City Committee, owing to gross frauds alleged to have occurred in the primary. It will also arrange for the State convention of the party, selecand place and and place and and place and a basis of representation. The meeting is of especial interest by reason of the effort that Richmond is reason of the effort that Richmond is making to secure the convention.

The consideration and action of the committee on the Norfolk city contest promises to consume considerable time. A subcommittee, consisting of Hon, A. D. Watkins, of Farmville, Mr. Robert Gilliam, of Petersburg, and Mr. Lioyd T. Smith, of Northumberland, was named by the committee to go to Norfolk and take testimony bearing on the conflicting claims of the contestant and contestee and present the evidence secured thus to the full committee which will then consider and decide the case on its merits and the facts established by the depositions.

its merits and the facts established by the depositions.

It is regarded as likely that the committee will set a date for the convention early in June, and that it will make the basis of representation one delegate for every two hundred votes cast in the election of 1900. Judging from expressions of various members of the committee. Richmond will probably be chosen as the place for the convention.

Richmond will probably be chosen as the place for the convention.

The indications now are that the Virginia convention will with practical unanimity endorse Judge Alton Brooks Parker, of New York, for the presidential nomination. It may also declare for a southern man and a Virginian for Vice-President. Judge Parker's is about the only name heard in connection with the nomination. The Hearst boom has collapsed like a bubble pricked by a pin.

Chronic Kidney Disease

MEASUREMENTS IN KIDNEY TROU-BLES-One may be in great pain and have a mild case. Another may feel pertest of the urine tells the story. Tho diagnosis is beautiful in its certainty.

For instance, albumen, which is the life of the blood, can, when found in the urine, be accurately measured. Again the urea (the name given to certain waste products-poisons that the kidneys should carry off) should be about two per cent. If the urine does not show that much the urea is storing in the system and there is trouble ahead. The albumen should remain in the blood and the urea drain away. Inflame the kidneys from any cause and the urea stays and the albumen drains out,

Thus, while healthful urine should show no albumen and two per cent, of urea, no albumen and two per cent, of threa, if the kidneys are out of order it is common to find two per cent, or more of albumen and very little urea—the life draining out—the polson remaining. This is what kidney trouble really means, and is recorded as fatal if it becomes chronic, and up to the discovery of Fulton's Compound for Bright's Disease there was nothing known that would correct it. was nothing known that would correct it.

A cold settling in the kidneys or continued mental worry may start kidney trouble. But it commonly disappears with the cold or exciting cause. If it hangs on after the cold or cause has disappeared, it becomes chronic, and kidney stinulants and directics are then value-less. If you question this, look at the medical works. There is only one cure, if you have any kidney trouble, start right. We are agents for the Fulton Compounds, Owens and Minor Drug Company, Agents, Richmond, Vs.

nize too, that to be beautiful, one must have health, Woman's health depends essentially upon the organs strictly feminine.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the great specialist in women's diseases at Buffalo, N. Y., says that a woman must be well balanced in health to be beautiful. By this he means that all parts of the body must be bealthy, that the blood flows evenly and at the same speed to each part of the body. If there is inflammation, alceration, or a catarrhal condition in any part of the body, this takes away from the proper amount of blood in other parts. The surroundings of the woman play an important part in her development, so that when she is badly nourished, exposed to bad air in ball rooms, factories or office, when she is over-worked and subjected to great mental strain and shock, she is pretty sure to get pale and to have great loss of blood, or it may be that certain functions which should be regular stop altogether. As a result of this also the young girl becomes very nervous, and all kinds of results follow. To regulate the functions and put the parts, especially feminine, into the best possible condition, the young women or a woman passed the girlhood days should take a tonic made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, without a particle of alcohol or narcotic—a remedy which is designed for one purpose only, namely, to cure women of those peculiar allments which drag her down and cause those nervous troubles which make so many women miserable. Dr. R. V. Pierce in extensive practice discovered a medicine which was most efficient in such cases.
